Notable features:

This is a pleasant group. Its segmental window arches indicate 1850's buildings in an earlier stylistic vernacular. There is a round-headed sallyport between 836 and 838. The 2-story and basement gabled type and the 2½ story gables are 1848-1860 on evidence of people listed as living in the street in the directories of 1842.

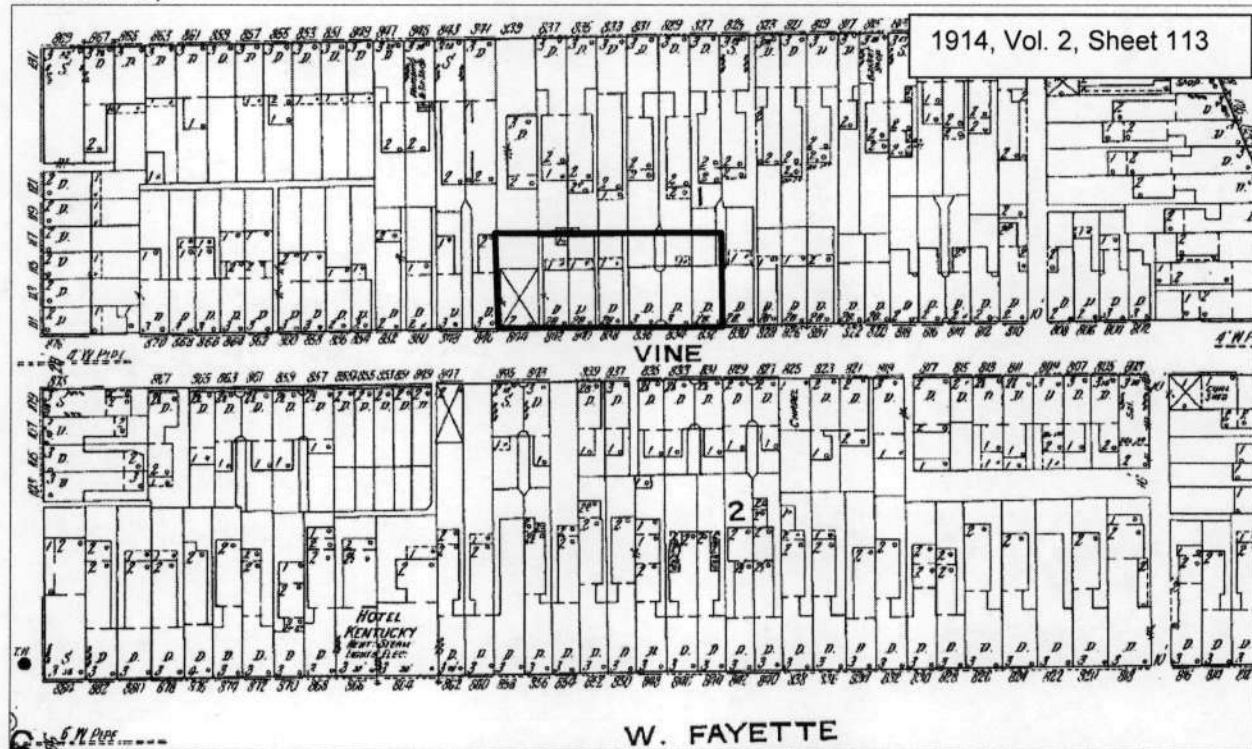

Environmental context:

Small houses, small and quiet street offer potential of good living environment. House-to-house and across-street scale is good even though there are gaps at both ends and across the street. Imaginative use of gaps is key. Numbers 832, 836 and 838 are vacant.
